FROM DEAN MATASAR

In the category of: "If I worked for the Tribune or the Sun-Times, I'd be history by now!" How nice it is to sit, quill pen (well, maybe, quill keyboard) in hand once again to take up my semi-regular, regular column on these pages.

The last few weeks have been an exciting time for the law school. We have become comfortable in our new home, perhaps too comfortable for those of us who enjoy pristine cleanliness. (Those large plastic things you see around the building are trash cans, folks. Feel free to use them.) Since our move in January, we have seen the Piper Lecture, the panel discussion on the North American Free Trade Agreement, countless informative programs, television coverage, and hundreds, or is it thousands, of prospective students. And with Dedication events, the conference on Section 1983, the Barristers' Bash, and a host of other events to come, the semester's far from over. Perhaps most exciting to me, however, was the tremendous show of interest by students in proposed curricular reforms.

As you know, for the last several months, the faculty have been contemplating changes to the curriculum: to consolidate and change the constitutional law requirement and alter the requirements for graduation. These issues sparked a lively debate among the faculty, and more importantly, among the students. I was greatly impressed by the level of discourse among the students: you showed an enormous amount of sophistication in understanding the issues; you showed strength in your character in pressing important questions; you showed admirable restraint in being patient with the process of faculty discussion. As a consequence, the changes, which were recently adopted by the faculty (see Dean Chapman's message below), were intelligently debated and fully considered. Moreover, the discussion of these issues has provided us with a springboard to discuss other curricular reforms.

Next year, the faculty and student members of the curriculum committee will take a look at the entire law school program and make recommendations for further change. The hallmark of this law school has been its willingness to move forward. I am glad to see that our students and faculty will not stand still and retain a spirit of innovation.

* * *

Speaking of excitement. On Tuesday, March 17, the Chicago-Kent faculty will be presenting a symposium on a variety of topics. Although you have been requested to fill out a reservation card in advance of the conference, please feel free to drop in on any of the sessions. This will be a unique opportunity to learn about your faculty and share your thoughts with them.

I look forward to seeing you!

FROM DEAN CHAPMAN

The faculty passed the Faculty Resources and Constitutional Law proposals on March 10, 1992. The administration is working on the timetable for implementing the reduction in credit hours required for graduation. It has been determined that 90 hours will continue to be required for all currently enrolled students.

The new 4-hour Constitutional Law course will be required for all currently enrolled first-year students and will be offered during the next academic year. Advanced students who took Constitutional Law I will have an opportunity to take Constitutional Law II in the Spring, 1993 semester.

SUMMER AND FALL REGISTRATION. Summer session registration will take place on April 6 and 7 and fall registration will begin on April 13. The Summer Session schedule and registration instructions will be available today outside the cafeteria. Preliminary Fall and Spring semester schedules will be distributed on March 30. I will meet with students to discuss the schedules and planning during the week of March 30 at times to be announced in the March 30 Record.

Enjoy your spring vacation!

LAW OFFICES

Registration for In-House Programs

Fall 1992 Applications due Thursday, April 2

Students who would like to learn how to practice law while they are in law school should register for the clinical education class, LAW OFFICES. Applications are now available for fall. The fall applications are due April 2.

Students may enroll in Law Offices after they have completed their first year of law school. To be eligible to enroll, ALL students must complete and return a completed Law Offices application. Applications must be turned in to the Law Offices receptionist in Suite 600 by the deadline.

Students who have taken or are currently taking Law Offices (called Continuing Law Offices Students) and who submit their applications by the due date will be given preference if availability permits. Next, priority will be given to the top ten students who did not turn down a place for Spring 1992, who were on the waiting list in the division they have marked as first choice, and who submitted their fall application by the due date. Other new students who have submitted their applications by the due date will be selected in the Law Offices lottery.

There are three in-house divisions to choose from -- the civil division, the criminal division, and the tax division.

In the civil division, the clinical faculty handle a broad range of significant cases, including employment discrimination charges on behalf of employees, civil rights cases, tort matters, real estate closings, etc. During the course of a semester, students typically interview several potential clients and are assigned from five to eight cases. They may draft pleadings, interview witnesses, write motions and other court papers, prepare for negotiation and counseling sessions, and second chair at various court appearances.

In the criminal division most of the matters handled by the clinical faculty are major felonies in both the state and federal courts. Thus, students work on such diverse cases as capital offenses and commodities fraud. They may interview witnesses, prepare motions, second chair at trials, and prepare for plea bargaining sessions.

In the federal tax division the students, under the supervision of a clinical faculty member, handle federal tax examinations, appeals and collections matters before the Internal Revenue Service, and litigation in the United States Tax Court. They may interview taxpayers; review documentation; research the applicable tax law; prepare and submit written protests to the I.R.S.; prepare Tax Court petitions, motions, stipulations, and briefs; and represent taxpayers before the I.R.S. and in the Tax Court. Students who either have completed Personal Income Tax or will take Personal Income Tax in the summer semester are eligible.

ADVANCED EXTERNSHIP PROGRAM, FALL 1992

Advanced Externship Program: Prospective Third Year Students

Do you wish to develop your legal skills and gain practical legal experience? Do you wish to work in a specialized area of law with a corporation, firm or government agency? Do you wish to make yourself more marketable to prospective employers upon graduation? If you have answered "yes" to any of the above questions, you should consider applying for the Advanced Externship Program for Fall Semester 1992.

The Advanced Externship Program is a four-credit hour program. An extern is placed in a private or public, civil or criminal practice and is required to work 16 hours a week at his/her designated placement. Civil externs may select to work under the supervision of general counsel in major corporations or under the supervision of designated teaching lawyers in well-known firms or specific government agencies. Externs may specialize in such diverse legal areas as tax, commodities, securities, corporate, health care, medical malpractice, and general corporate law, etc. Criminal law externs may select to work with designated supervising lawyers at the States Attorney's Office, Public Defender's or the U.S. Attorney's office.

If you are interested in learning more about externship opportunities or in applying for the program, please see Professor Vivien Gross in Rm. 617.

Applications are available on the third floor literature table and in Law Offices. They must be turned in to Professor Gross by noon on Friday, March 20, 1992. All applicants must have scheduled an interview with Professor Gross prior to turning in their applications. Slots are limited. In the event qualified applicants outnumber available slots, students with at least one semester of Law Offices will be given priority.

Patent Law Interview Program

Information and registration procedure: Read the following information carefully! (Note that the registration deadline is next Monday, March 23rd!)

The Sixth Annual Chicago Patent Law Interview Program will be held August 21-23, 1992 at the Guest Quarters Suite Hotel, 198 E. Delaware Place, Chicago. This program is sponsored by 40 Chicago area law schools (it is coordinated by Loyola Law School), and is attended by patent employers from Chicago and throughout the country. Many patent law employers do their recruiting through specialized interview programs such as this and do not participate in regular fall on-campus interview programs.

Here are the requirements for participating in the Patent Law Interview Program:

- 1) Patent employers generally hire only those students whose educational backgrounds make them eligible to take the patent bar exam. Participation in the Patent Law Interview Program is therefore limited to those students who are eligible to sit for the patent bar exam. Check your eligibility under the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office's requirements for taking the patent bar exam, available in the Patent Law Interview Program information packet at the reception desk in the Career Services Office.

- 3) Students who wish to register for the program must fill out a registration form and return it to the Career Services Office by Monday, March 23 at 6:00 p.m. This is a final deadline!
- 4) A $10.00 registration fee (payable by check to Chicago-Kent College of Law) is due at the time of registration. The $10.00 fee is to cover the mailing, staff and photocopying costs for the extensive employer materials that will be sent by Loyola Law School to each registrant during the summer. The fee is nonrefundable if a student decides to cancel participation after March 23, 1992. Students who register for the program and pay the registration fee are not guaranteed interviews or job offers through the Patent Law Interview Program.

Registration forms and further information about the program is available at the reception desk in the Career Services Office in Suite 360.

Important Information About Your Resume

We want to clear up some confusion concerning the wording of the legal education section of student resumes.

In past years, Chicago-Kent student resumes have read:

(first line)	IIT Chicago-Kent College of Law
	Juris Doctor expected June 1994

Chicago-Kent's new policy is to indicate the school's name as follows:

(first line)	Chicago-Kent College of Law
(second line)	Illinois Institute of Technology
	Juris Doctor expected June 1994

Please make sure to take a look at your resume and make sure you word this information correctly. If you have questions, contact Lisa Abrams in the Career Services Office.

RE: CRITICAL INFORMATION REGARDING:
FINANCIAL AID AND NEED-BASED SCHOLARSHIPS

The 1992-93 Financial Aid Form (FAF) and the Chicago-Kent College of Law, Illinois Institute of Technology Financial Aid Application are now available in the Office of Admissions and Financial Aid, Suite 230. An information packet to assist you in completing the forms is also provided.

This is a long memo, but it is one you need to read. Your financial aid, whether a loan and/or a need-based scholarship, depends on it.

Once again, that time has arrived for you to begin the process of applying for financial aid for next year. Please take note of the calendar of important dates below; I suggest that you save this memo for later reference.

We have prepared an information packet to assist you in the application process. Please be sure to read through the entire packet. These packets, along with the FAF and Chicago-Kent College of Law Financial Aid Application, can be obtained in Suite 230 of the new building.

Recent congressional legislation has made an important change in the federal student loan programs: borrowers age 21 or older will be required to undergo a credit check before any loans are approved. This may affect your ability to borrow student loan funds. Information regarding credit reports is provided in the information packet; please read it carefully. Additional information will be announced in The Record as it is received.

Take special care in reading the FAF instructions. The school code for Chicago-Kent College of Law is 1654. Please note that this is NOT the code listed in the FAF packet.

To be eligible for all forms of financial aid you must meet the deadlines listed on the following page.

By April 1

1. The FAF should be received by the College Scholarship Service (CSS) no later than April 1. A pre-addressed envelope is enclosed with the FAF instruction booklet. Plan to mail it in sufficient time to meet the deadline.
2. Your Chicago-Kent College of Law Financial Aid Application should be received by the Chicago-Kent College of Law Office of Admissions and Financial Aid no later than April 1. The Office is located in Suite 230 in the new building.
3. Financial Aid Transcripts must be sent to all previously attended colleges or universities by April 1, if this is the first time you are applying for financial aid at Chicago-Kent.

By June 1

1. After you file your FAF, you will be sent a Student Aid Report (SAR) by the College Scholarship Service (CSS). All pages of your Student Aid Report should be in your financial aid file at Chicago-Kent College of Law by June 1, even though it will say that you are not eligible to receive a Pell Grant (Pell Grants are for undergraduates only). Do not send any corrections on your Student Aid Report to CSS; send the SAR to the Office of Admissions and Financial Aid as is and attach any corrections on a separate sheet of paper. Make sure that you sign the report where indicated.
2. If you are selected for Verification, you will be asked to submit copies of your tax forms and a Verification Worksheet. These materials and your SAR must be returned before a financial aid award will be determined for you.
3. You should sign and return your financial aid award letter to the Office of Admissions and Financial Aid by June 1, or within three weeks if received after June 1.

By July 15

1. You are expected to turn in student loan applications from the lender of your choice by July 15. If you are unsure of a lender, contact the Office of Admissions and Financial Aid at (312) 906-5180. Loan applications for the Law Access program will be available in the Office of Admissions and Financial Aid, Suite 230. You can also obtain a Law Access loan application by calling Law Access directly at (800) 282-1550.

We are ready to help if you need assistance -- just call the Office of Admissions and Financial Aid at (312) 906-5180. Above all, please do not put this off (especially doing your taxes).

Thank you for your cooperation.
